

Pet Education Partnership

FIRST EDITION

THE

PETS' FEELINGS MATTER

WEB REPORT

A SPIDER HAD A LUCKY ESCAPE LAST NIGHT, THANKS TO THE QUICK THINKING OF 10-YEAR-OLD, LING.

Just moments before Ling turned on the taps for her nightly bath; she spotted a spider, trapped near the plughole.

"The poor spider was trying to climb out, but seemed to be struggling. I quickly grabbed some towels and placed them on the side of the tub. Thankfully, the spider used the towels to make his escape and ran out of sight. The story could have had a very different ending, had I not spotted him before running my bath", explained Ling.

We hope that this story leads to people across the UK leaving towels on the side of the bathtubs to help save our hairy house guests from danger and feeling trapped.

1

How do you think the spider was feeling?

2

How was the spider affected
by the actions of people?

3

Why do the spider's feelings matter?
